Internet Policy

Purpose

To establish guidelines with respect to camper access and use of the Internet.

Procedure

Camp-a-lott maintains a web site on the Internet.

It is imperative that all connections between Camp-a-lott and the internet be secure, controlled and monitored.

Sensitive and/or Confidential Information:

Campers are not to transmit sensitive information without taking reasonable measures to protect its confidentiality and integrity (e.g., encryption).

- This is because communications, including e-mail and file transfers, transmitted over internal and external networks are not private.
- Recipients can redistribute messages without the sender's knowledge. In addition, information can be obtained by intercepting the communication line.

Approved Uses:

Company Internet Service may be used for Company business activities or for the purpose of the following Leader approved activities:

- Research
- Education
- Public Service
- Individual Professional Development

... unless such activities violate any other provision of Camp-a-lott Internet policy.

Access to the Internet is governed by the following rules and procedures

- Workstations having access to Internet and networks must use Camp-a-lott authorized access method.
- Camper use of Internet services beyond electronic mail must have Director approval.

All software downloaded to computers must be...

- For approved business activities,
- Comply with all copyright and licensing agreements, and
- Be scanned for computer viruses or other malicious code prior to any other use.

All Uses:

The Camp Internet service may not be used to connect, transmit, download or upload any graphics, data, audio or video clips which are related to sex, illegal drugs, criminal skills and/or activities, hate speech or on-line gambling.

All electronic mail, bulletin board messages, files, as well as any other data stored on or transmitted by Company equipment are the property of The Camp.

The Camp may review, monitor and record such data without notice or permission.

Employees using the Internet are specifically advised to have no expectation of privacy for any Internet use via Camp-a-lott s facilities, whether business or personal.
